The vehicle body is washed by hand with a luxurious microfiber washing sheet and soft pH. Chimp® which contains carnauba wax for great cleaning. Each wash it dries with a microfiber towel without araman and is repeated drying mix before the body buffed for a large shot. The vehicle pneumatics are cleaned for the first time to eliminate dirt and then the product applied to black the aluminum one by one that need appearance. Your vehicle will really clean and all the dirt is gone. Cleaning the doors, the windows, the glass, the frame of the doors and in the arches. I would not see the front of the vehicle, but when the doors open, it has to coincide with the rest of the body. This is how you treat the client detail the same way that you take the rest of the vehicle. The wheels and arches are cleaned first and are treated with a non-caustic solution before cleaning the wheel with a professional wheel brush without streaks. The wheel arches are completely cleaned and rinsed. All glass is clean and polished inside and outside. Certainly you can see clearly when we have finished with your windows and you can perfectly see the increase that we will do from your interior too. Fenland Auto Detailing is the lifelong ambition of Paul Green. Paul has always had a deep seated love of cars and car detailing, and back in the day he prepared his own classic car for show events at weekends. A life altering injury at work forced Paul to re-evaluate his career options and he decided to take the leap and follow his dream of becoming a full time specialist clinician in bespoke auto wax and ceramic detailing. Paul spent a year learning the art of washing and detailing cars before making the decision to attend specialist courses with Kelly Harris (KDS Keltic) to learn the dark art of high level paintwork detailing. Located in the East of Cambridgeshire in the village of Littleport, in the Isle of Ely. Fenland Auto Detailing is a highly professional mobile detailing service that covers Cambridgeshire, Norfolk and Suffolk. Our wax detailing can be done at the clients location (weather dependant) whereas ceramic detailing must be done in a covered area. Clients can talk through the best options for their vehicle with Paul before deciding which system is best for them. We keep 2 or 3 options for both ceramic and Caniba waxes in stock so choosing is easy. Fenland Auto Detailing is fast becoming the detailer of choice for the areas supercar owners, with cars such as Lamborghini, Ferrari, Aston Martin and Porsche all being cars that Paul regularly works on for his core client base. Our team also can provide contract valeting services. Our clients include valeting tracked top end tractors ready for sale to preparing motorhomes for hire for a well known Hire Company in Norfolk. Contact Paul to get more details on this service. Fenland Auto Detailing is proud to have now introduced a truly bespoke service we call ªSalon Priveeº.
